STATE TAX BOARD TO PERMIT BONDS

City Will be Authorized to Raise $2,000 to Pay for Survey for Sewerage System.

COMMITTEE FILES REQUEST

Council Will be Required to First Take Formal Procedure Before Bonds Are Offered.

The joint committee representing the city council and the chamber of commerce which is giving attention to the proposed construction of a modern sewerage system, has been advised by the state board of tax commissioners that the city will be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $2,000 to defray the cost of a preliminary survey. Before the bonds can be offered for sale, however, formal procedure will have to be taken by the city council. The state board stated that it would not be necessary for representatives of the committee to appear before the commissioners in Indianapolis if the council took the required action.

Several days ago the joint committee reached the point in their work where no further progress could be made until a survey of the city was made. The survey will also include specifications for the character of sewerage system that will meet local conditions. When the survey and specifications are completed the council will then be in a position to advertise for bids so that the cost of the improvement will be known. Whether or not the city will desire to proceed with the work when the bids are filed will be determined later.

When the joint committee found it necessary to have a preliminary survey of the city made, the matter of providing funds for the work was taken up with the council. It was then found that no money was available here for that purpose. The council has not provided a sewer fund for a number of years, and the expense of the survey would have to be made by a special appropriation. Because of the operation of the tax law this could not be done without permission of the state board and accordingly, a committee was appointed to appear before that body. A. H. Ahlbrand, of the chamber of commerce committee, wrote the state board regarding the proposition and received the reply that it would not be necessary for the committee to appear if the council sanctioned the appropriation.

It is expected that the matter will be disposed of by the council in regular meeting tomorrow night. The regular procedure for the appropriation of money will be followed.

The appropriation for the survey does not mean that the sewerage system will necessarily be built as that is a small part of the whole contract. It is estimated that the system complete will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000 and before this money is made available, the state tax board will more than likely call for a referendum vote on the question. If the majority of voters in Seymour oppose the improvement the matter is then dropped. But, if the majority favor the improvement and the bond issue which will be necessary, the council will proceed with the work.

The proposed sewerage system will be designed to bring relief to all parts of the city. Whether or not it will have a disposal plant in connection will be determined later. It is pointed out, however, that the system could be completed with the view of building a disposal plant later and the cost would be divided over a longer period of years. Many, however, who are interested in the plan are urging that the system be built right at this time so that the sewerage problem will not arise again for years to come.

ROTARY INDORSES COMMUNITY HOME

Members Feel That This is Proper Time To Encourage Building of Such an Institution.

OBSERVANCE OF ROTARY WEEK

Special Program to be Arranged February 23-28—Fifteenth Anniversary of Organization.

Enthusiastic indorsement of a community home in this city was given by the Rotary club at the regular meeting today. The matter was suggested by C. D. Billings, who stated that while no definite proposals as to subscriptions had been made, he felt that a number of people would contribute so liberally that little trouble would be experienced in raising the necessary funds.

Mr. Billings said that the need of a community home or Y. M. C. A. building had been apparent here for several years and that the sentiment now in favor of such an institution is very pronounced.

L. C. Griffiths, who presided at the luncheon, appointed committees to make arrangements for Rotary Week to be observed by the local club February 23-28. The program which is mapped out by International Rotary calls for church attendance of the members on the Sunday immediately preceding the week. The J. H. More extended an invitation to the members to attend vespers services at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon, February 22.

Entertainment features will also be provided during the week. A committee has already been appointed to arrange for a Washington Birthday party on Monday night, February 23. A novel program will be presented following a banquet, it was announced. Don A. Bollinger is chairman of the entertainment committee. This will also be observed as "ladies' night" and an interesting program is anticipated.

Mr. Griffiths appointed two committees to make arrangements for various features of the Rotary Week program.

W. L. Densford gave an interesting talk on "Why I Am What I Am," and C. H. Wiethoff made an explanation of several sections of the constitution and by-laws.

E. P. Elsner conducted the singing at the meeting today.

The annual Rotary meeting of Indiana will be held in Ft. Wayne, beginning tomorrow, and J. H. More was elected alternate delegate to this meeting. Clarence Edmundson and N. R. Martin are the delegates. Quite a number of the local Rotarians are planning to be present at this meeting.

GOVERNOR TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Goodrich Says He Thinks Cities Should Fix Their Own Tax Levies.

By United Press
Evansville, February 10—Governor James P. Goodrich today asserted he would ask a special session of the legislature to be called next month to change the tax laws back so as to give cities and inter-taxing units power to fix their own tax rates and levies. The governor was in Evansville as the first stop in a tour of the state to defend the tax law and his administration from attacks of political enemies.

The Governor also promised good roads boosters that a good roads program would be presented to the special assembly.

Regarding the system for taxing units, the governor said he would suggest that the law be changed so as to permit the city councils to make a budget based on the past year or two and then to fix levies to meet the city's needs as outlined by the budget.

Change of Agency.

Beginning Thursday, February 21 the Courier Journal and Times will be on sale at Interurban Station. per copy.

This is the government laboratory which gives the final answer on the alcoholic content of home brews which Uncle Sam's prohibition sleuths seize. Hard cider, hair tonics, patent medicines, flavoring extracts, and all other forms of alcoholic drinks will reach the same goal. The laboratory is in the treasury department where it has passed from the jurisdiction of the bureau of internal revenue to the federal prohibition commission.

DISTRIBUTION OF AUTOMOBILE FUND

Jackson County Receives $1,219.63 By Second Semi-Annual Apportionment for 1919.

TOTAL OF $16,373 FOR YEAR

As Law Has Been Changed This is Last of These Payments That Will Come to County.

By the second semi-annual apportionment of the motor vehicle fund which will be made by the secretary of state within the next ten days, Jackson county will receive $1,219.63, making a total of $16,373.03 derived from this source for the year 1919. The amount to be distributed to the several counties of the state at this time is $108,893.29. Jackson county will receive a larger sum than the automobile owners paid for license fees during the last year.

The license money received from automobile owners by the secretary of state is divided into three funds. One-third is apportioned equally to all counties in the state. The second is divided according to the number of licenses sold in each county and the third is distributed according to the miles of improved highways. As this county has approximately six hundred miles of concrete, gravel and rock roads it has always shared well in the distribution of this money.

The county received more from this fund in 1919 than it did the year previous. The larger distribution is due to the increased receipts of the secretary of state, due to the larger number of automobiles in Indiana. In 1918 the county was paid $13,180.29 in the first semi-annual distribution and $669.41 in the second which was not received until April 21, 1919. This is a total of $13,849.70 for 1918, compared to $16,373.03 for 1919.

This is the last payment that will (Continued on page 6, column 5)

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Meets to Carry Out Senate's Instructions.

RESERVATIONS FOREMOST

Effort not Centered Upon Modifications That President Wilson Will Accept.

By United Press
Washington, Feb. 10—The senate foreign relations committee met today to carry out the senate's instructions by reporting the peace treaty with the Lodge reservations attached. Senator Lodge planned to make the report when the senate met at noon. Actual consideration of the treaty, however, is not expected to begin until next week.

The reason given is that the conference report of the railroad bill is due this week and that the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill should be acted on at once. Lodge wants to clear away pending legislation before taking up the treaty. In the meanwhile intense activity is likely in an effort to frame a modification of Lodge's reservations on ar-

RAILROAD SHOP LABORERS INSIST UPON HIGHER PAY

Call for Strike Effective February 17, Issued by the President of Organization.

By United Press
Detroit, Feb. 10—Ten delegates of the united brotherhood of maintenance of way and railroad shop laborers today were enroute to Washington to make a last effort to untangle the wage puzzle.

Call for a strike, effective February 17, was made yesterday by Allen E. Barber, grand president.

This committee is vested with full authority, it was said at headquarters here, to enter into negotiations with the railroad administration and accept any just settlement.

It was directed to remain in Washington, subject to the call of Rail Director Hines, until the day of the proposed strike.

J. B. Malloy, vice president of the organization, will head and direct the committee. Malloy has been in Washington for some time trying to reach settlement.

President Barker, in a statement issued last night, to be sent to the 300,000 workers in the United States, cautioned the men not to resort to violence and to "always be law-abiding citizens."

LEXINGTON QUIET; TROOPS ON DUTY

Mobs Which Attacked Jail in Effort to Lynch Negro Murderer, are Dispersed.

TROOPS GUARD COURT HOUSE

Rioters Reported to Have Assembled Near City to Prevent Removal of Prisoners.

By United Press
Lexington, Ky., February 10.—United States regulars of the First division marched the streets of Lexington today to prevent a recurrence of rioting which caused the death of five persons and the wounding of a score yesterday.

Mobs which attacked the courthouse during the trial of Will Lockett, confessed murderer of Geneva Hardemann, ten year old school girl, scattered with the arrival of the second detachment of infantry late last night.

Soldiers were posted about the courthouse where Lockett was confined, pending removal to Frankfort state prison. Soldiers searched every person who appeared in the streets after dark. The veterans were posted on each of the twelve roads leading to Lexington and entrance to the city was refused.

Lexington is under martial law, governed by 900 soldiers.

Although rioters disappeared from the streets last night it was reported that they were stationed along the Lexington-Frankfort pike to prevent any attempt to remove the negro to the penitentiary.

Major General Charles P. Summerall, commandant of Camp Taylor, Louisville, was to arrive here at noon to take command. State militia troops which clashed with the mob yesterday have been relieved and will return to their homes today.

Governor Morrow will be asked today to support passage of a law-making attack upon a woman punishable by hanging in the county in which it occurs and making the law applicable to the Lockett case.

FULL TIME SECRETARY PLAN BEFORE C. C. DIRECTORS

Special Meeting to be Held Late This Afternoon to Discuss Financial Method.

A special meeting of the directors of the Chamber of commerce was to be held late this afternoon for a discussion of the full time secretary plan. The employment of a secretary was approved at the last meeting of the Chamber.

Before the plan can be put into operation methods for raising the necessary funds must be determined. It is proposed that a sustaining membership be created which would pay annually dues of from $25 to $250 for a period of three years. The directors of the organization have assurance that adequate funds can be provided.

RAIL WORKERS GO INTO CONFERENCE

Leaders of Brotherhoods Confer With Hines Relative to Wage Increases.

ANSWER TO BE IN WRITING

Rail Director Says Full Increase Demanded is Impossible At This Time.

By United Press
Washington, Feb. 10—Leaders of two million closely organized union railroad workers were to go into conference with Rail Director Hines here today to receive a direct answer to their demands for immediate wage increases totalling $2,000,000,000 a year.

Hines promised to give them his answer in writing, leaders said.

"If it isn't what we want we'll strike," said President W. G. Lee of the brotherhood of railway trainmen. "The time for dickering is past."

Hines will tell the delegation the full increase is impossible at this time, it was plainly indicated although the rail director has made no statement of his decision. It is well understood, however, that he plans to admit that the rail workers are entitled to some increases. He is expected to propose some form of investigation and settlement through an independent agency, probably a commission to be named by President Wilson.

The President, Hines feels certain, will be able to put the proposition in such a way that the railroad men will be forced to approve a settlement by peaceful means, or be condemned from the start by public opinion.

This is how the railroad administration is planning to handle the situation precipitated by general chairman of the union of maintenance of way workers at Detroit who fixed February 17 as a day for beginning their share of the threatened strike.

Railroad administration officials are prepared for a general outburst of strike threats beginning late today and tonight, when the union leaders are in possession of Hines' answer to their demands. Officials early today expressed confidence, however, that there will be no extensive walk-out although they are prepared for the usual "tense moment" that always comes at one point during all such negotiations as are now going on.

Union leaders indulged in many strike threats last spring, officials recall. It was then that the present demands were first submitted. Pressing of the demands was postponed, however, at the request of President Wilson who asked the rail men to give the government a reasonable time in which to grapple with the living cost problem.

Officials also recall that in December, union leaders privately admitted there would be no nation-wide strike. This was after the government invoked the injunction in the coal strike.

SEYMOUR CABINET CO. EXHIBITS HANDSOME SET

Many people have stopped at the central display window at Hoover's furniture store to inspect the handsome dining room set on exhibit there. Interest in the furniture is increased when it is known that the beautiful set was manufactured by the Seymour Cabinet Company, which was recently organized and took over the plant formerly operated by the Seymour Wood Working Company.

The dining room furniture is made of solid walnut, a part of which, by the way, is Jackson county timber. In the manufacture of the set the graceful and attractive lines of Louis V and Queen Ann designs are combined. The set is one of the most attractive that has been shown here in recent years.

The Cabinet Company manufactures but one design of furniture. It has sufficient orders booked to keep the plant in steady operation for months and the trade is more than pleased with the finish and workmanship of the furniture which comes from the local plant. R. A. Greman is president and manager of the company and is largely responsible for the success which has come to the company so soon after its organization.

TOMATO PACKERS MEET TO DECIDE UPON 1920 PRICE

Growers Recently Expressed Opinion They Should Receive $20 a Ton.

By United Press

Indianapolis, Feb. 10—Whether canned tomatoes will be higher or lower in price on the Indiana market was to be decided here today.

Representatives of the tomato growers and the Indiana Canners' association were to meet here to reach an understanding about this year's crop. The Indiana growers at a recent meeting voiced the opinion that they should receive $20 a ton for their crops. Whether this would be the price demanded of the canners today was not known.

Each of the ten state districts of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' association sent a representative to the meeting today. In the group were Percy Jansen, of Gary; D. N. Kemp, of Kempton; N. E. Parson, Plainfield; Christian Peacer, Indianapolis; Emory Lett, Washington; Chester DeVore, Johnson county; H. H. Starkey, Velpen; J. Ross Robertson, Brownstown.

These men attended mass meetings of tomato growers Saturday each in the district he represented to get the sentiment of the great body of tomato growers toward the increased price.

CONCERNING YOUR EYES

Myopia (Near sight) is best relieved by properly made and fitted glasses. Near sighted persons cannot see clearly at a distance. Unless glasses are obtained IN TIME there is danger of serious complications.

Hyperopia (Far Sight) is often the cause of nervous troubles. It is a very common cause of SQUINTING or CROSS EYES. Nearly 60 per cent. of cross eyes can be straightened by glasses if taken IN TIME.

The SOONER a child receives attention and glasses the BETTER for the child's eyes and resultant nervous troubles.

An optometrist is THOROUGHLY COMPETENT to correct these defects by means of glasses.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY PARTY OF TROOP 2, BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA.

The First Anniversary Party of Troop No. 2 was held last night in connection with the regular meeting. The boys met as usual at the Shields high school. After a short business meeting they were addressed by Chaplain Walfred Lindstrom, on "The Champion Cootie Hunter." Then without any idea where they were going they followed blindly the leadership of the Scoutmaster who informed them they were to accept the invitation of a friend of the Scouts to spend the evening. By a circuitous route they reached the home of Scout Carl Hustedt whose parents were hosts to the boys. Guessing games, pinning the heart on the fish-hook, music and a general good time was enjoyed. The home was beautifully trimmed with Valentine favors and flowers. After the fun the boys were served brick cream and heart cakes. Candy hearts were discovered hidden in the various rooms and the finder was the owner. Each boy on leaving was presented with a valentine. Mr. and Mrs. Hustedt were given numerous cheers for their kindness, and the Scouts of Troop No. 2 will not quickly forget the pleasant evening.

GOODRICH WILL SPEAK IN DEFENSE OF THE TAX LAW

Governor Will Endeavor to Break Down Opposition to The Measure.

By United Press
Indianapolis, Feb. 10.—Governor James P. Goodrich was to start on a stumping tour of the state today in defense of the state tax law enacted by the 1919 general assembly.

Although the governor has not made public what line of argument he will follow, it is generally conceded that his speeches will be along the line he delivered at the banquet of republican editors in Indianapolis recently. This speech is said to have broken down some opposition to his administration which was apparent within his party ranks.

The first stop will be made tonight in Evansville. He will talk in Perry county tomorrow, Logansport Thursday, Fort Wayne Friday, Vincennes Friday February 17 and New Albany February 18, according to the present schedule.

In all his talks the governor will make a majority of the assertions that the home owners of the state will pay lower taxes this year under the new tax law and that the larger business concerns said to have been escaping their full assessments will pay their just share. He also will defend the state administration and its policies of economy. He will review his promises of the 1916 campaign which he says square with the accomplishments of his administration.

Controversy Continues.

Washington, February 10.—Admiral W. F. Sims today accused Secretary Daniels of pursuing a "defeated policy." This policy, Sims declared, is more detrimental to the fighting spirit of the navy than the worse form of bolshevism is to organized government.

WHEN A WOMAN

feels all run-down, weak or dizzy—when she feels tired before the day is begun—she should turn to the right womanly tonic.

La Fayette, Ind.:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription" was of great comfort to me during middle age. Whenever I felt melancholy, or had blinding dizzy spells or hot flashes, I would take the 'Prescription' for a few days and it never failed to give me just the necessary relief. I also used the 'Healing Suppositories' at this time and think they are splendid. About twelve years ago I wrote to the Faculty of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice and received special medicines from the laboratory that helped me wonderfully for certain womanly weaknesses. I appreciate the advice given me and also the inexpensiveness of the specially prepared medicines."—MRS. ELSIE A. PORTER, 612 So. First St.

Hot-Flashes—Dizzy Spells

Kokomo, Ind.:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription" was of great help to me at the critical time of life. I suffered with hot flashes and dizzy spells and it was because my mother had been relieved by the use of the 'Favorite Prescription' that I decided to take it. I took several bottles and have always been very glad that I did because it certainly did all that I wanted it to."—MRS. RULE GRAY, 920 N. Webster St. Bluffton, Ind.:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his Golden Medical Discovery proved wonderfully beneficial to me about eighteen years ago. For months before I started to take these medicines I was in very miserable condition. For about eight weeks I had hemorrhages. I doctored with two doctors who did not seem to understand the nature of my trouble and they talked to me about an examination. I took three bottles of each, but the very first bottle stopped the hemorrhages and then I commenced to gain in every way."—MRS. JOHN VERNON, 215 E. Wiley Av.

THIS CITY MAY BE DISTRICT HEADQUARTERS

Directors of Chamber of Commerce to Confer With Representative of Highway Body.

B. R. McBride, a representative of the construction department of the Indiana highway commission, came here today to confer with the directors of the chamber of commerce relative to the location of the maintenance of roads and construction offices for this district in Seymour. He will meet with the directors of the commercial body tonight.

Mr. McBride was a guest at the Rotary luncheon at noon today and in a brief address outlined the work that will be undertaken by the commission during the next few years. The state is to be divided into eight sections, he said, with a maintenance and construction force in each. Headquarters will be selected in each district. The district in which Seymour is located is to embrace all the counties south of here to the Ohio river, including Lawrence county.

Before the location can be permanently decided upon, he said, certain conditions would have to be met and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be called tonight to discuss these.

GEORGE VOGEL DEAD

Former Redding Township Man Expires in Rock Island, Ill.

Mrs. John Maschino, of Redding township, received a message today announcing the death of her brother, George Vogel, of Rock Island, Ill. Mr. Vogel died from pneumonia following a short illness. He made his home with his sister in Redding township until about eighteen months ago, leaving there for Illinois, where he has been employed. The deceased was 41 years old.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the remains will be shipped to this city and taken to Four Corners for burial.

Mr. Vogel was the son of Peter and Mary Vogel, both deceased, and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Maschino, of Redding township, Mrs. Richard Baurle of this city, and two brothers, Peter Vogel of Four Corners, and Nick Vogel, of Malcolm, Ia.

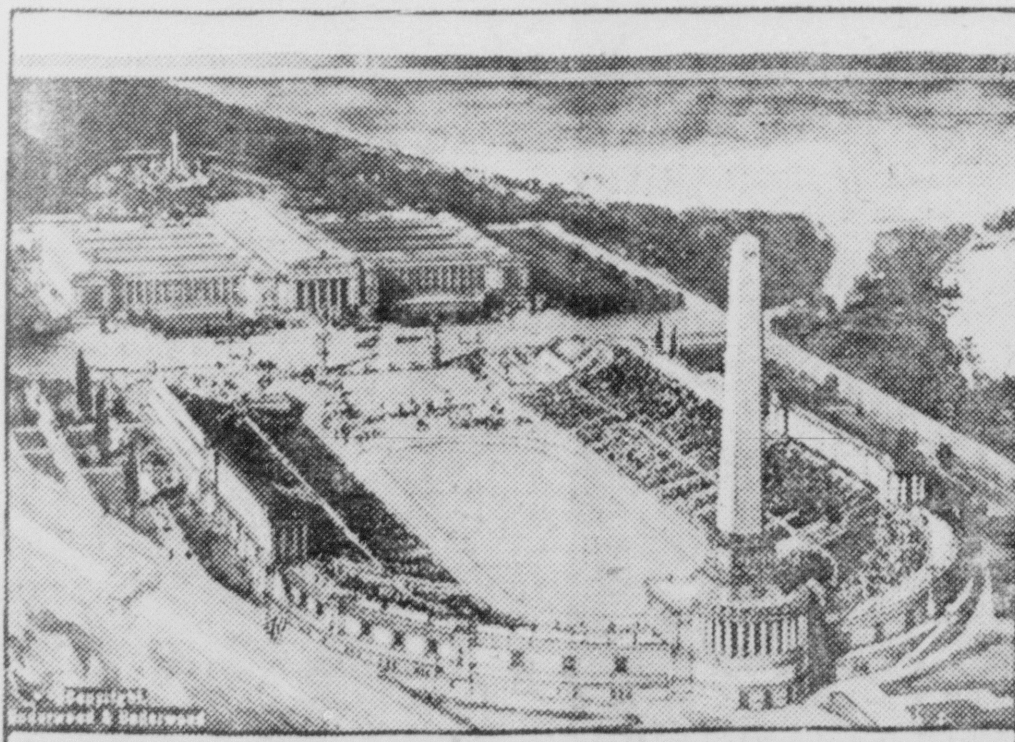

Nick Vogel of Iowa, has gone to Illinois, and will accompany the body to this city.

Four of the members of the family of Charles Fox, of Redding township, are reported ill today.

This little boat was one of the fleet of 59 which cleared the North Sea of 55,000 mines.

The Fleet has just returned to this country and was given a big reception in New York City.

These boats would sometimes be out for as long as twenty-five days in the storms and seas for which the North Sea is noted. The work was declared impossible by other navies, but the United States went ahead and completed this work before the scheduled time.

The U. S. Navy once again did the impossible.

MIND ALTERED BY SEVEREST TRIALS

Mrs. Stratton Believes Trutona Will be as Great a Help to Others as to Self.

FORMERLY HAD NO FAITH

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10—"I never used to think much of patent medicines but I've changed my mind about one of them at least, since I have taken Trutona," Mrs. Anna B. Stratton, a well known Indianapolis woman who lives at 936 Woodlawn Ave., said recently. "I don't believe that a drug store can be complete without Trutona," she added.

"My kidneys and bladder were out of shape," Mrs. Stratton continued. "At times by bladder would become full up to the point of bursting, it seemed, and yet there would be no action and I would have the most terrible pains. Dizzy spells came over me at times, so severe that I would have to stop whatever I happened to be doing and sit down for a while.

"Trutona absolutely and entirely relieved me of my kidney trouble. It not only has done that but it has made my liver active and has cleansed my system of the worst looking bile you ever saw. Only a week after I commenced using Trutona I began to straighten up and feel much stronger. Now I feel better than I have for years. I would be glad if every one in the United States could know, as I know, what Trutona will do for them."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE OFFERS HIMSELF TO ALLIES

Son of Former Kaiser Would Surrender and Thus Save 900 Germans.

By United Press
Washington, February 10—President Wilson has received a cable from the former crown prince of Germany offering himself to the allies for a trial in place of 900 Germans demanded. The cable was dispatched from Weiringen, Holland, where Frederick William is exiled. It was transmitted to Wilson by White House officials.

The message the crown prince sent to President Wilson: "The demand for the delivery of Germans in every walk of life has again confronted my country, sorely tried for four years of war and one year of severe internal struggle, with a crisis that is without a precedent in the history of the world as affecting the life of a people. That a government can be found in Germany which would carry out the demanded surrender is out of the question; the consequence to Europe of an enforcement of the demand by violence or incalculable hatred and revenge would be made eternal. As the former successor to the throne of my German fatherland, I am willing at this hour to stand up for my compatriots.

"If the allies and associated governments want a witness let them take me instead of the 900 Germans who have committed no offense other than that of serving their country during the war."

SHOW GEMS OF PRINCESS DEAD FOR 3,800 YEARS

Finest Collection of Personal Adornments Ever Brought Out of Egypt.

Jewelry worn by an Egyptian princess of the twelfth dynasty, 1300 years before the Christian era, was displayed at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It is declared to be the finest collection of personal adornment ever brought out of Egypt.

When marauders entered the tomb of Princess Sathathorinut at some odd moment in the last 3,800 years, they took away her mummy and even the elaborate funeral trappings, but overlooked a niche containing the wonderfully wrought ornaments she wore when attending the ancient equivalent for a first night at the opera.

Prof. W. M. Flinders Petrie, head of an English archeological society, dug the collection out in 1914 and today it looks as bright as if it had just come from the makers. It consists of a gold necklace inlaid with a carnelian, a lapis lazuli and green feldspar and another pectoral similarly made for King Senuseri II, father of the princess; a gold collar of double lion heads, a girdle of gold with rhombic-jeweled heads, a necklace of amethyst with gold lion-claw pendants, armlets and bracelets with gold bars and beads of gold, carnelian and turquoise, and parts of the princess' jewel box made of ebony with gold and carved ivory panels.

The jewels are identified as belonging to the princess by her name and the name of her father in cartouches on the larger pieces.

According to custom, the Cairo museum retained the choice of the collection, a diadem. Since its purchase by the museum the collection has been in a vault in London, stipulation having been made that it should remain there until six months after hostilities closed.

BOY IS GREAT HUNTER

Fifteen-Year-Old Oregon Youth Holds Record of State.

Blenn A. Brooks, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brooks of Swiss Home, in the Shuslaw country, in Oregon, claims to be champion bear hunter for his age in that part of the country. His record so far has, perhaps, not been equaled in any part of the state by any lad as young as he.

On August 12 of this year Blenn killed a big bear with one shot, bringing it out of a tree where it was feeding on berries, and on September 12 he killed another in a neighbor's orchard, bringing it down out of a fruit tree with two shots. But the most exciting encounter he has yet had was on November 26, when he and his two older brothers were out hunting in the mountains not far from home. While going through a big patch of fern the boy saw tracks of a bear leading to a hollow tree. When he and his dog neared the tree Bruh came out and with one slap of its paw sent the dog whirling into the air and then climbed a tree.

The boy hunter knocked it out with one shot, whereupon the bear showed fight. Blenn coolly pumped two more doses of lead into the advancing beast and finished it.

Pennsylvanian Attributes Miraculous Recovery to Phonograph Tune.

Paralyzed as a result of injuries received in an auto collision several weeks ago, Moses Haines of Connelville, Pa., has suddenly recovered the ability to walk. "Play it again," he shouted to his wife. She did so and he hopped out of bed, put on his clothes and went out, according to his story.

PETITION TO COMMISSION

Local People Seek to Prevent Change in Highway Routing.

A petition signed by more than 250 residents was forwarded today to the state highway commission and asked that the route of the main market highway between Seymour and Brownstown be permitted to stand as originally designated. It was reported here that the commission was considering a change, whereby the lower Cortland road beginning west of here and extending through Honeytown would be designated. The petitioners stated that the original route was the most satisfactory. While it was not definitely known that a change was contemplated the petition was filed to as an indication of the general interest in the matter.

Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

Why Women Lack Energy

If you are nervous, pale, enervated and lack energy, your blood is thin and impoverished. It needs more oxygen to vitalize it and stimulate the circulation throughout your entire body. Lack of oxygen in the blood always causes a lack of energy and strength.

If there is not a sufficient supply of oxygen in the blood—circulation slows down—the heart action slackens—the nerve cells do not receive proper nourishment and every organ of the body becomes sluggish and inactive. Oxygen electrifies the blood—revitalizes it, and makes it rich, red and healthy.

REOLO supplies to the blood the oxygen, organic iron and natural cell-salts that Nature requires to nourish the cells and maintain health, energy, vitality.

It stimulates the appetite, digestion and assimilation; tones up the nervous system; increases the activity of the circulation and makes the whole body glow with health.

REOLO rapidly increases the number of red blood cells—and plasma of the blood, destroys the insidious germs—burns up the worn-out cells, and sends through every artery a stream of rich, red, vitalized blood that gives renewed strength, energy and endurance.

Start the REOLO Tonic Treatment today and you will be delighted with the steady improvement in your health. It has remarkable tonic qualities.

The large package of REOLO contains 100 tablets, sufficient for two weeks' treatment and only costs one dollar.

TREATY IS DELAYED BY RAIL MEASURE

article ten which will get sixty-four senators' votes, (the two-thirds necessary for ratification) and at the same time be acceptable to President Wilson.

Senators realize, they said, that they will be wasting time if they ratify the treaty with reservations that Wilson will not accept. There appears to be a sincere desire to make the ratification effective. The remainder of this week is to be spent in trying to work out an agreement which will result in shortening debate and quickly disposing of the treaty after it actually is taken up.

Lodge has decided on the modifications of the Lodge reservations he will present. They will include the changes decided on by the bi-partisan conference and in addition an amendment of the Lenroot reservation on voting power. This is the reservation which Lord Grey said in his letter to the British empire cannot accept. Lodge's proposed amendment would give Great Britain the option of having six votes—her own and those of her five colonies—in the league assembly, in which case she must give the United States six, or of disfranchising her colonies and using but one, in which case the United States would leave but one vote. This option could be exercised in each case arising in the league assembly, under Lodge's plan.

Lodge himself will not propose any change in the article ten reservation but has agreed to let mild reservationists present to the senate proposals they have drafted for modification of this reservation.

Democratic senators are preparing to oppose any effort to make textual amendments to the treaty when it comes back from the committee. Senator Johnson, California, has announced he will again offer his amendment on voting power. The Democrats wish to limit the proposals to reservations. Democratic leaders have conferred with Vice President Marshall to get his idea of the rules on this point. Marshall is understood to construe the rules as prohibiting textual amendments, if the treaty comes back to the senate with the resolution of ratification attached to it, as it will, under the instructions issued yesterday to the committee by the senate.

Be surprised and delighted. Amaze your friends, too! First, obtain a box of oil of Korein at any drug store. A $1.00 guarantee in each box that by following Korein system you will lose 10 to 20 pounds, whatever weight you wish. A brochure will be mailed (plain wrapper) free by Korein Co. Station F, New York, N. Y.

Fine Metals Make a Fine Car

As a car is 98% metal you can readily imagine how great a part metals play in its quality. A Maxwell is made of fine metals—extra fine metals; otherwise it never could have survived those 1,500,000,000 miles that owners are estimated to have driven it.

These metals had to be of the finer grades in a Maxwell. For a Maxwell is light—2130 pounds. Lighter metals had to be used but lighter in weight only—not in strength.

Such metals are the extra fine metals that the great science of metallurgy has produced. They are high priced. But they have won countless friendships for Maxwell, developed a great family of owners approaching 400,000 in number.

This vast number is growing daily at the rate of 100,000 per year.

AVERAGE FARM LAND
PRICE $168.50 IN 1919

Price of $153 Has Been Paid Since January 1 Indicating Lower Market.

Indianapolis, February 10—Indiana farm land sold during 1919 brought an average price of $168.50 an acre, according to figures worked out by Luke Duffey, of the Duffey Farm Sales Agency, from all the information he could gather. Since January 1, the average has been $153, his figures indicate.

Mr. Duffey says: "As the farms sold recently are all representative in fertility, location and improvement, it would seem that the market had dropped slightly in the last few months, especially since government bonds have slumped in the open market. The unsettled condition of industrial affairs, the shortage of farm labor, the fluctuating status of the live stock market all seem to disturb the farm land investor."

"The hog market falling 50 per cent., as it did last fall by its dropping from $23.00 to $11.50 a hundred pounds, is an incident which fairly instilled the fear of a trader in the breasts of all stock-producing farmers. The 200,000 hog owners in Indiana, holding approximately 2,000,000 hogs of an average of 100 pounds each, lost in this wild market orgy approximately $27,000,000. However, the staying hand of the United States Grain Corporation has made possible a fixed quotation on grain products.

"There can be no question but that the farm under most objectionable conditions in the point of earnings, makes all other investments, especially those of a 5 per cent. nature, look bad in comparison. An acre of land yielding forty bushels of corn of the value of $1.50 a bushel, after deducting one-third as overhead, pays 5 per cent. on an $800 an acre investment, and as long as the prices of well-situated farm lands remain as reasonable as now, the indications are that the prices will not come down."

Columbus Case Dismissed.

The Columbus-Edinburg basketball controversy was dismissed from consideration and turned over by the board to the two schools to settle. The argument between the schools was caused by a misunderstanding at a recent game between the institutions relative to the time of the game.

Local fans are also interested in the following dispatch relative to the basketball situation in Knox County.

The eight Knox county basket ball teams were placed on the probation list by the board yesterday, following a review of their participation in the recent Knox county basketball tournament held under the auspices of the Vincennes University at Vincennes. The tournament was not conducted in an authorized manner, the board stated. The teams will remain on probation until January 21, 1921. They will, however, be eligible for state high school competition, pending good behavior.

The MAN NOBODY KNEW

By Holworthy Hall

Copyright by Dodd, Mead & Company, Inc.

At first, Hilliard was untouched by the shock; the force of it seemed to pass over him entirely; then all at once, as he was caught by the drift of it, his hands began to tremble violently; and his palms were clammy with sweat. His stomach seemed to drop out of him, and he was nauseated by the tremendous purport of his employer's cynicism.

"Mr. Harmon!" he panted, under his breath, "Mr. Harmon!"

The New Yorker looked at him in genuine surprise.

"What's the matter, Hilliard? You look sick! Or . . . d—n it, man, if that's another one of your bluffs, you're wasting your time. You haven't worked up such a holy disposition you believe in this mine, have you?" He moved uneasily. "I wish you'd wipe that pious expression off your face—or is it glued on?"

"Hilliard's voice shook uncontrollably.

"This . . . this mine!" he stammered. "You told me—"

"I'll stand by everything I've ever told you, Hilliard. I'll prove it. It's an area of mineralized schist with disseminated copper values. And we've got over a hundred acres of it. And part of the shaft, too!" He laughed noiselessly. "Of course, altogether there's about five hundred square miles of that same sort of land in the same state, but what's the odds as long's you're happy? Tell me you aren't wise? Rot! Why, you knew all about it when we were on the boat!"

Hilliard's muscles were working in hysterical jumps, and his face was distorted.

"You . . . y-you're saying . . . y-you're saying I've been selling . . . s-selling to my friends a piece of d—n worthless property? Are you?"

"Shut up!" The big man was dominant, ugly. "Understand me? You keep your mouth shut if you know what's good for you! Didn't you come up here to get square—with your 'friends'? Your 'friends'!" His accent was superlatively contemptuous. "You knew it wasn't a producing mine, didn't you?"

"You told me it was a wonderful prospect! I knew it was a long shot, but I thought there was some value there . . . a lot of it . . . and you said the shaft . . . you always said the shaft was—"

Harmon reached for another cigarette; there was undisguised perplexity on his face.

"Son, if you aren't a mighty good actor, you're . . . are you going to claim you didn't know what this mine is? After all that whining and squealing of yours about your getting even? Then what in thunder did you want to come back here for?"

"To make some money—to get some fun out of it. I wanted to make fools of people; I didn't want to swindle anybody! I thought I was giving 'em something for their money! I—"

Harmon lighted his cigarette, poned too complacently.

"The funny part about it," he said slowly, "is that I don't honestly believe you're bluffing. . . . But you knew it was only a prospect."

"But I thought it was a good prospect! Never mind—" He made as though to rise. "You've said enough. I'm through with you!"

The big man's jaw thrust out beligerently, and he caught Hilliard by the arm.

"Now, stop right there! Sit down! Sit down! Maybe you thought it was a good prospect and maybe you didn't, but you're not through with me yet—not until I say so. Don't you make any mistakes like that, my boy. Don't you go off half-shot—not yet! Remember our contract? Ever heard of promoter's liability? I'd certainly hate to see you get into trouble, but if you've made any wild statements about material facts—"

Hilliard was straining half across the table.

"You told me the ore was there! And I thought the worst that could happen would be to tie up this money for a few years—that's why a prospect's so hard to sell! I knew darned well it wasn't any whirlwind right now, but I did think they'd . . . they'd at least make something good out of it . . . eventually . . . even if it . . ."

"Ah!" said Harmon, sneering, "but you had every opportunity to learn the facts—eve-ry opportunity. It's not my fault if you went off half-cocked. I don't know what you've represented to your gang up here. I'm not responsible. All I know is that you've collected sixty-two thousand dollars, and turned it over to me, and I'm to give you stock for it, and pay you a rebate in cash. Maybe you call it a commission . . . it's a rebate! Read the contract. Read it carefully, while you're about it. Take it to a lawyer; I don't care. Any lawyer you like. If you've gone beyond the facts I'm mighty sorry for you, but I don't see how it affects me any. Do you?"

Hilliard had slumped wretchedly into his chair; his thoughts were running aimlessly about the grim axis of his chicanery.

"And . . . and after all I've done!" he said thickly. "After all I've said! Oh, my God!" His chin sank low, and his grip on the table relaxed.

Harmon was less at ease than he pretended. "Well, if you aren't bluffing," he said presently, "you sure are the biggest baby for a man's-sized man I ever saw. Brace up, there! You—"

Hilliard pulled himself erect with a final effort, and his fist gestured his accusation.

"You know what I'm going to do about it, don't you?"

"Yes," Harmon nodded, as he drew the smoke deep into his lungs.

"I'm going straight back to those four men, and—"

"No," Harmon wagged his head. "No, you can't very well do that, either—even if you're as shocked as you look. Look at it just a minute . . . look at our contract. There's some loopholes for me you could drive a motortruck through; but you haven't got one as big as a knitting needle. No, son, the best thing for you to do is to take a brace, and go get another sixty thousand while the getting is good."

"Not necessarily!" Hilliard's high-pitched laugh was brittle.

Harmon allowed the smoke to eddy gently from his nostrils. "Yes—necessarily."

"You think I'll raise my finger after this, except to . . . what do you take me for?"

"I take you," said Harmon deliberately, "for a short-sighted young man in a mighty bad spot. You don't want these folks up here to know the whole truth, do you? It wouldn't hurt me any—but after the record you made here before you got yourself kicked out two years ago. . . . Oh! don't jump! You don't think I've been asleep, do you? . . . I don't believe you'd get much sympathy. Not much! And I've invested a lot of money in you. . . . I want some big returns. Look me in the eye, son. I want you to calm down. Now, there's only three parties to this deal—you and me and the world. You and me—and the world. Get that? And you and I have got to play straight with each other. You help me get the money, and I'll help you get whatever you want. But when you throw me down, I throw you down, and we'll see who comes out ahead. I'll bet I do. What do you bet?"

Hilliard shook his head helplessly.

"You've got to remember," said Harmon in sardonic consolation, "that you're an awful easy man to describe. You can slip out of Syracuse just as easy as you please, and try your darnedest to make a getaway, and you'd have pretty hard work to keep away from the Pinkertons for twenty-four hours. And I've got the evidence that would put 'em after you. So don't you plan to run away, son—don't do it."

Hilliard's judgment was tottering. Where did he stand in relation to Armstrong now?

"Well?"

Harmon snatched at the sign of weakness, and was instantly persuasive.

"Stay on another six weeks; make the rest of your killing. After this is over, do what you please. You'll have money enough to suit yourself. I'm playing straight with you . . . am I not?"

"Yes," said Hilliard, with withering sarcasm, "you are!"

Harmon glowered at him.

"Don't you accuse me of double-crossing you, son! It's the other way round."

"You aren't fool enough to expect me," said Hilliard shakily, "to keep on trying to sell more of this rotten stuff! You aren't enough of a fool for that—"

"I can, and I do. You're in for it now, Hilliard, and you can't very well go back. You've collected money; you can't get your hands on it again; you can't make any restitution. You've tied your head off already; you can't do any better now than to stick to your first story, because the truth's a good deal worse. You'd better make your killing and make it quick. And if you open your head for just one little peep . . . floozy, floozy, and the fat's in the fire. Well . . .?"

Hilliard's head was splitting with the horror of it. He saw, in a whirling vision of dread, the people of the city rising to denounce him; not merely for his inexcusable masquerade, so grotesquely built upon the dream of regeneration, not only for his vast abuse of personal confidence, not only for the base hypocrisies he had practiced upon his quondam sweetheart, but also for this grossly profitable fraud. Dimly, he argued just as Harmon claimed, he couldn't be in harder straits. A spasm of reckless fatalism shook him.

Harmon, who had been inspecting him critically, took out his fountain pen.

"I'll write you your check for commissions—shall I?" He held the pen poised insinuatingly. "And then we'll forget this little misunderstanding, and start fresh. Shall I? Let's see," with great attentiveness to the figures. "Your twenty per cent is twelve thousand four hundred, and that, less half expense . . . call 'em five thousand even . . . that's seventy-four hundred." He tore a sheet from his pocket check book, dried the ink by waving it in the air, and flitted it over to Hilliard. "Put it away and let's have some lunch. If you're afraid to have your friends see me down here, let's have it upstairs. I'm not sensitive, son; it don't pay."

"No," said Hilliard, dully, "and I guess it never will."

"That's the idea! Now you're talking sense! Come on, son, buck up and let's have some lunch. . . ."

At eight o'clock in the evening, when Rufus O'lock knocked at Hilliard's door, it was opened by a man with a face to remember afterward.

There were deep-cut lines—almost furrows—by the mouth and eyes; and the eyes themselves were startlingly luminous, and drawn. The man's complexion was chalk-white.

"Why, Mr. Hilliard!" exclaimed Waring. "What on earth's the matter with you?"

"Come on in," said Hilliard, and his smile was ghastly. "I've been waiting for you."

REVIVE OLD SWINDLE

Many Americans Said to Have Fallen Victims.

Madrid Police on Trail of Gang That Operates "Dying Prisoner" Scheme.

Madrid.—The "Spanish swindle" has shown its head again. America has been inundated with letters from "a dying prisoner, persecuted by political enemies, only able to communicate with the outside world through the kindness of a prison chaplain." The writer of the letter claims relationship with the person addressed and explains that a valise containing valuables has been concealed outside of Spain, the contents to be left to an only daughter and the American relative.

Should the American reply, he later receives a letter from "the chaplain," stating that the prisoner is dead and that a certain sum is required to release the prisoner's baggage, including the mysterious valise. Fortunately when the correspondent reaches this point the "American relative" usually becomes curious and as a result the embassy in Madrid and the consulates throughout Spain have a flood of correspondence on the subject.

In other cases the victim takes the bait without question and parts with his money, or even worse still, goes to the expense of traveling to Spain to pay the required sum to release the valise and claim his share of the contents.

In the latter case the swindler is generally brought to book, for the Spanish police are on the lookout and the presence of a stranger looking for lost relatives arouses their suspicions.

Recently an American arrived in Madrid with a certified check to claim his share of a prisoner's estate. The Spanish police put him in prison until he could be convinced that he had been the victim of a clever swindler. It took all the eloquence of an American consul to do this and induce the man to return home.

MEXICAN WOMEN WAKING UP

Organized Movement May Bring Better Understanding With United States.

Mexico City, Mex.—Mexican women are preparing to take a hand in public affairs. They intend first to attack social and industrial evils and later to make a fight for political equality. This is the program of the Mexican feminist council, a national organization with headquarters in Mexico City. The council does not believe that the mass of Mexican women are at present prepared for complete suffrage but hopes eventually to make them a vital political force. The present Mexican government looks with favor upon their efforts, according to Senorita Elena Torres, general secretary of the council.

The feminist council has organized groups to teach Mexican women how their conditions may be improved industrially and socially. The next step, said Senorita Torres, will be organization of woman workers in industry. The council intends to bring the movement in contact with similar organizations in other countries and to work with the women of the world for peace and disarmament. Senorita Torres predicts that Mexican women will create a new era of amicable relations and a more complete understanding between Mexico and the United States.

250,000 Orphans Roam Homeless in Armenia

Geneva.—Besides the massing of 1,500,000 Armenians during the war, this people is being still further reduced by demobilized Turkish troops, who are killing them and robbing them of what is left of their possessions, says Dr. Kunzler, a Swiss pastor, who was in Armenia throughout the war.

He made this statement in an address at Zurich. He said 250,000 homeless orphans are wandering about the country.

Rips Off Skirt, Saves Boy.

New York.—Among the crowd that gathered when five-year-old Leonard Hopewell of 501 West One Hundred and Forty-seventh street, was run over by a trolley car at One Hundred and Forty-seventh street and Amsterdam avenue, was a woman who tore off her undershirt and fashioned a tourniquet, which she bound around the boy's right ankle.

Surgeons at St. Lawrence hospital, who amputated his mangled foot, said the woman's action saved his life. She slipped away without revealing her identity.

Infant in Red Cross.

Seattle, Wash.—May Rogavich entered the world at 2:21 o'clock one afternoon, gazed on things in Providence hospital a little time and at 6:11 o'clock in the evening joined the Red Cross. May Rogavich is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rogavich, 110 West Crockett street, and weighed, when born, seven pounds and one ounce. The Red Cross has offered $10 to be paid during the present roll call drive to the youngest member enrolled. "Beat that," chuckled Mr. Rogavich when his daughter had been given the white-and-red button of membership.
